

Where's Your Phone At?

Workshop Information Packet · Smartphone & AI Workshops for Adults 55+

About the Workshop

Where's Your Phone At? is an interactive workshop created by Elder Tech Educator Rose Kenney to help older adults become more confident using their smartphones and practical AI tools. Every workshop is fully customized to your organization's goals and your participants' needs — delivered in a warm, judgment-free, hands-on format.

Who It's Built For

- Senior center directors
- Retirement communities
- Libraries
- Churches & faith-based organizations
- Nonprofit & community organizations
- Healthcare organizations
- Activity coordinators

Workshop Topics May Include

- Smartphone basics & accessibility features
- Text messaging, email, and video calling
- QR codes and everyday practical tasks
- Scam awareness & digital safety
- Organizing photos
- Everyday AI tools
- Building digital confidence

Topics, pacing, and depth are tailored to your community during a brief planning call.

Real Outcomes

Participants leave with real skills they can use immediately — not just information they'll forget. Organizations report increased digital confidence, reduced technology frustration, greater independence, stronger social connection, improved digital safety, and consistently high attendance and satisfaction.

"The Mayor is so happy that this is happening. Don't keep this to yourself — when you hear Ms. Rozell is having another event, be there and bring a friend."

— Sharlene Waller, Executive Director, Mayor's Commission on Aging, City of Philadelphia

Flexible Workshop Options

Signature Workshop — The full Where's Your Phone At? experience, customized to your community's goals.

Community Access Model — An ongoing partnership serving your members over multiple sessions or a full semester.

Sponsored Community Workshop — Partner with a local sponsor to bring the workshop to your community at reduced or no cost to participants.

Introductory Demonstration Session — A shorter preview session, ideal for staff meetings, boards, or a first look for your members.

Instead of one-size-fits-all pricing, we discuss the option that best fits your goals, participants, and budget on a short planning call.
